

Genesi

Référence interne :

CARACTERISTIQUES:

Genesi is a range of machining centers for additive manufacturing, offering large material deposition capabilities and precise control of printing parameters via extrusion systems developed by Breton. Its AI software automatically optimizes process settings. Combining additive printing and milling options, it provides enhanced flexibility. Breton ensures a safe, standards-compliant work environment and supports clients with expert guidance for successful integration into their businesses.

Photos :